My name is Adriana Sanders, and I am a game designer from Michigan State University specializing in cozy role-playing games. This website has downloads to all my games, including Pixel Planters, Fruit Basket Mix-Up, and Fruit Basket Mix-Up 3D.

My whole life I have been drawn to games that make the user feel warm and cozy. Games like Stardew Valley and Animal Crossing inspired me to become a game designer and create games that evoke comforting feelings in the user. At Michigan State University, I have designed my own games and studied what makes a game good and well designed. I have spent countless hours creating concept art, modeling 3d props, and coding with my hardworking peers to design games that we love. As you view my games and my art, I hope you find the same comfort and warm feelings that I have found through making them.
